

Jun Kitazume

北爪 潤

Disasters and conflicts overflow from the dam of daily life.

In this false and unrealistic reality, people are forced to isolate themselves from each other, and society is becoming increasingly stagnant.

In the midst of our daily lives, we have the magical power to instantly transmit and share our will and open the door to the world. On the other hand, we monitor and divide each other, and hang the heretics...

We are witnessing a witch hunt of sorts.

Everyday life coexisting with unknowable monsters spawned by modern society. The "witch" as an ambivalent portrait of those of us who live under these conditions is at the core of the imagery of my recent works.